The new select who hogged all the straw for his mattress only to find he had a bill to roll off of all night.

Makes Second Hit.
An audience as large and as enthusiastic as that which greeted "The Spring Bonnet" on its initial appearance Wednesday night witnessed the second performance last night which was up to the standard set by the first appearance. With the exception of the change in soloists the program moved off as on the previous occasion and won the same approval of the audience. Last night, the soloists were Mrs. G. W. Wade and Walter Barrington.

The proceeds of the event which was arranged by the L. O. T. M., will be forwarded to Miss Sue K. Watson now with the American relief committee in devastated France to aid in carrying on her work there.

Coming Home Next Week.
Miss Edith Mitchell Hartman, who attends Leland Powers Dramatic school in Boston, Mass., is expected to come home on Monday to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Hartman.

CARANZA PICKS GIRL "ENVOYS" TO THE U. S.

These two Mexican girls, Adrianna and Dolores Ehlers (left to right), have been picked by Carranza to help promote more cordial relations between the people of the "States" and Mexico.

These two girls set up a photographic studio in the back garden of their Vera Cruz home. Carranza passed the little studio and had his picture taken by them. He became interested in them. There are not many women photographers in Mexico. He agreed to give them government backing, first for study, and later for bringing better understanding between the peoples of Mexico and the United States through motion pictures and Y. W. C. A. work.

ATTENTION! Sick Women

To do your duty during these trying times your health should be your first consideration. These two women tell how they found health.

Hellam, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles and a displacement. I felt all run down and was very weak. I had been treated by a physician without results, so decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and felt better right away. I am keeping house since last April and doing all my housework, where before I was unable to do any work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly the best medicine a woman can take when in this condition. I give you permission to publish this letter."—Mrs. E. R. CRUMLING, R. No. 1, Hellam, Pa.

Lowell, Mich.—"I suffered from cramps and dragging down pains, was irregular and had female weakness and displacement. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which gave me relief at once and restored my health. I should like to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies to all suffering women who are troubled in a similar way."—Mrs. ELISE HEIM, R. No. 6, Box 83, Lowell, Mich.

How Oldest Food Saver Puts Up Young Carrots

Recipe Used By Mrs. Rachel Edwards, Aged 94.

Carrots are a hardy garden vegetable we are accustomed to eat when fresh or to allow to mature to full size and store in bins for winter use, but the young carrots are so delicious that several cans will be a desirable addition to the canned food store. Select only the small and tender carrots and cut off the leaves to within 2 inches of the top. Blanch for 5 minutes in boiling water and then cold dip for a moment. When cool enough to handle remove skin and stem. Slice or pack whole, as preferred, in glass or tin. Add 1 teaspoonful of salt to top and fill can with boiling water.

Place the jars in the boiler and sterilize for 15 minutes and 30 minutes. Remove from the boiler and seal.
